FIFTY PLAN TO REMAIN

National City Troop Will Visit Camp
Today—Organ Is Latest Acquisition—Ball Game Played.

An almost universal feeling of regret prevailed among the students yesterday at the approaching end of Camp No. 1 of the National City Troop. With the exception of about fifty persons, who will remain for the second camp, the students now in camp will go to their homes tomorrow. The enrollment for the second camp is expected to exceed this camp by about 150.

Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, one of the founders of the Daughters of the American Revolution, put a new thrill into the hearts of the students yesterday when she made a passionate plea for "Our Home, Our Land, Our Country and Our Flag."

Capt. (Mrs.) Charles Belknap, of Philadelphia, was officer of the day. Her color guards were Miss Louise A. Gary and Miss Gertrude Steele, of Baltimore, and Miss Witherby and Miss Weir.

The students yesterday received the hat insignia for Camp No. 1. They are of the regulation United States army make and shape and bear the numeral one over the letters "N. S. S." The second camp insignia will be the numeral two over the letters "N. S. S."

Keen competition already has become manifest among the students, who are to leave the camp tomorrow for the prize to be given for the best essay on "Girls in Camp." The essays must be turned in a week from tomorrow. The prize will be a gold badge.

The final touch of the military conduct of Camp No. 1 will occur today, when the students of the camp with the National City Troop, will be inspected and reviewed at the school, by the commanding officers of the school and the commanding officers of the troop who are regular United States army officers.

The troop, which is composed of professional men of Washington, who have been in training at Fort Myer under army officers since last October, will leave Fort Myer at 9:30 and ride to the school. The review and inspection will occur at 11 o'clock. The commanding officers of the troop are Capt. Charles G. Harvey, First Lieut. Edmund A. Buchanan and Second Lieut. R. W. Strong, Second Cavalry, U. S. A.

Another touch of both pathos and humor was added yesterday afternoon when a large transfer wagon suddenly appeared with an organ. The instrument was quickly unloaded and carried to the officers of the day's tent.

That Fearful Organ:

One young private, in answer to a question as to its probable use, said, without a smile: "I don't know, but I'm horribly afraid it means a song service tomorrow and forever afterwards."

Capt. Percy L. Jones, U. S. A., of the Walter Reed Hospital, yesterday completed the examination in first aid of a class of about sixty.

Company D is the originator of baseball in the camp, and two teams practice daily. The first team is composed of Capt. Belknap, captain; Miss Weir, Miss Steele, Miss Witherby, Miss Strong, Mrs. Benson, the Misses French, and Miss Baldwin. The fifth of a series of games between the two teams played Friday afternoon resulted in a tie. The opposing captains were Belknap and First Lieut. (Miss) Dorothy Schofield.

Can Cast Votes by Mail.

Citizens of North Dakota, who reside here, are receiving a circular from the State calling attention to the fact that they can vote by mail, not only at the primaries in the State in June, but at the general elections in November, under a law passed by the Legislature. The North Dakotans are instructed to write to their county auditor for an application blank.

Michigan, with eighty-six automobile factories, leads the United States. New York is second, with sixty factories.

BRYAN TREATIES IN WAY

State Department Officials Say Agreements Would Have Prevented
U. S. from Pressing Issue.

The State Department yesterday received a memorandum from the British government formally ceding to the demands of the United States in the case of the steamship China. This American ship was held up by a British cruiser off Shanghai and thirty-eight Germans, Austrians and Turks were taken off despite the protest of the ship's captain.

Sir Edward Grey's memorandum, transmitted by Ambassador Page at London, states that "it is the intention of the British government to release the persons as requested, and the government expresses regret at the occurrence."

Great Britain reserves decision so far as the principle involved is concerned. This principle for which the United States has contended is that no belligerent has the right to take persons off a ship flying the American flag. The United States has for many years taken the position that the American flag insures protection to persons traveling on the high seas and that Great Britain has no more right to take persons off that ship than she would have to take persons from American territory.

There is much gratification in State Department circles over the fact that the China case has now been disposed of. Officials say that in this case, as in other cases involving Great Britain and the United States, the so-called Bryan treaties have made it practically impossible to press the issue even if this government were disposed to do so.

The Bryan treaties are rapidly losing favor at the State Department, not because of Great Britain, but because these treaties appear to accomplish nothing excepting to place the United States in a helpless position.

No secret was made of the fact that Germany could have continually sunk ships on the high seas, even American ships, without permitting any practical redress if former Secretary Bryan had succeeded in negotiating one of his treaties with the Kaiser. Secretary of State Lansing has said that he regarded it as doubtful if a Bryan treaty could have been secured in the German case unless the Federal government ceased the offenses complained of while the period of "one year's waiting" was in progress.

SCORES DEMOCRATS'
EXTRAVAGANT BILLSSenator Curtis Points to $2,231,055,150
Appropriated by Wilson Administration in 63d Congress.

Senator Curtis, of Kansas, attacked the Democrats in Congress yesterday for extravagance in appropriations. He reminded them, in the course of a speech on the river and harbor bill, that they had attacked the Republicans on account of the Fifty-first Congress, which carried appropriations aggregating $1,023,702,983.

"The Democracy speakers and the Democratic press," said the Senator from Kansas, "referred to it as a 'billion dollar Congress.' Thomas H. Reed, Speaker of that Congress, replied that the country was a billion dollar country."

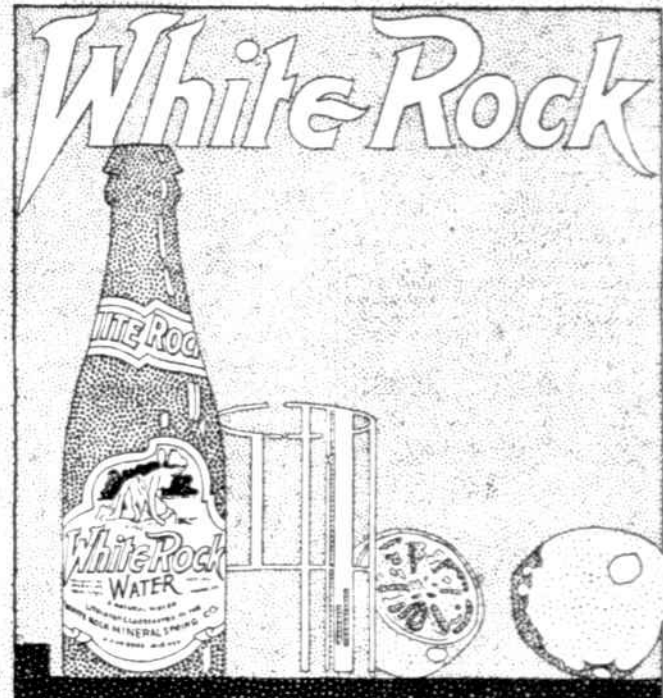

If that Congress was extravagant with the people's money, what will you say of the present Democratic administration with its majority in House and Senate in the last Congress and in this I call your attention to the appropriations in the Sixty-third. A total, including both sessions of $2,231,055,150, which was double the expenditures of the Fifty-first, which the Democrats condemned."

Will Invite Confederate Veterans.

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia yesterday decided to extend a formal invitation to the Confederate veterans of the civil war to hold their next annual encampment in Washington.
